

'Where there is no vision, the people perish.' Proverbs
CIVILIZATION IN TRANSITION:
Jungian Presence in Creative World Change.

Carl Jung foresaw a change in world order that he believed was a "spiritual transformation" in civilization. Aware of both its dangers and positive potential, he spoke of it in Civilization in Transition, part of which is paraphrased as follows:

Humankind's process of spiritual transformation cannot be hurried by rational process; but it is within our reach to change those who influence others. Those with insight into their own actions and access to the unconscious involuntarily influence their environment, not by persuading or teaching, but through an effect that pre-industrial peoples call "mana," an influence on the unconscious of others... (CW X, para 583)

The Foundation for International Training will meet in November for penetrating dialog about changes we face in the 21st century. We invite you to join us as we explore what these changes mean and the influence the Jungian community might have in promoting growth rather than destruction, hope rather than despair.

In our world divided, there is a fractious split between old religious concepts and newer, more individual spiritual understandings. Brash greed of giant corporations is juxtaposed against a movement toward greater respect for earth's people and resources. East and West battle for dominance. Distrust of leaders causes confusion, rage. Vitriolic rhetoric spills over into violent action.

What major forms of individual and collective identity will solidify if human beings continue to split the world with rigid assignments of good and evil, insist on finding the enemy in otherness, and demand simple answers to complex problems?

If it is who we are, not what we say, that effects lasting change, we must consider deeply who we are, who we are becoming, and what our role is in the collective. Dr. Jung's insistence on the need for introspective awareness does not mean living entirely in isolated contemplation. He himself wrote, lectured, composed long, thoughtful letters, and risked his reputation as a scholar and scientist in exploring unpopular topics and challenging collective assumptions. Our conference will explore what is asked of us as we move into an unprecedented era of rapid travel and instant communication of information and misinformation. Ahead are opportunities for greater accord and understanding, and also dark emotions of fear, despair, suspicion and discord.

The Foundation for International Training is a non-profit corporation dedicated to the support of concentrated studies in Analytical Psychology. Directors: John Desteian, Murray Stein, Stefan Boethius, Nancy Qualls-Corbett, Wynette Barton, Judith Harris, Paul Brutsche, John Hill, Penelope Yungblut and Dariane Pictet.

THE PROGRAM

A blessing by a member of the Santa Clara Pueblo will be followed by speakers, short videos, panel discussions, break-out discussions, and a few surprises.

Nancy Qualls-Corbett, Jungian Analyst from Birmingham, Alabama, author of The Sacred Prostitute: Eternal Aspect of the Feminine, will speak on the healing role of feminine consciousness. Jacqueline Hairston will share rare insights about the sustaining, healing qualities of America's Black musical tradition. Combining classical Julliard training with her knowledge of Negro spirituals and gospel music, Jacqui has composed and arranged music for Kathleen Battle, Robert Sims, William Warfield, and Sweet Honey and the Rock. Her new CD is Spiritual Roots + Classical Fruits: A Healing Harvest. David Barton will address "Titanism" (the tendency to dominate/ destroy the natural world) that comes from literalism rather than symbolic thinking and clashes with care of the soul. David is former publisher of The Salt Journal and guest editor for Spring Journal. Zurich Analyst Bernard Sartorius, long-time student of Marie-Louise von Franz, will discuss his recent travels in working with the polarities of Islam and the Western world. Conference moderator is Wynette Barton, Jungian Analyst from Austin.

We await final confirmation (depending on schedule) from Governor Bill Richardson, former U.S. Congressman, U.N. Ambassador, New Mexico Governor, and world peacemaker; and other knowledgeable contributors.

DATE:	Sunday, Nov. 6, 2011, beginning 4:00 PM. through Wednesday, Nov. 9, ending 1:00 PM.
LOCATION:	Ojo Caliente, New Mexico, known for centuries to American Indians for its healing mineral waters, is a two-hour scenic drive from Albuquerque. (Travel details will be sent to registrants.)
WEATHER:	Early November is usually sunny and brisk. Sweaters needed.
CONTINUING EDUCATION:	8 hours credit for mental health workers.
RESERVATIONS :	Reservations should arrive by March 10, 2011. Later registrations accepted if space is available. (Special room rate is available for those wishing to stay after the conference.)

See photos of Ojo Caliente at <http://www.ojospa.com>

REGISTRATION

Fees below include program, lodging, all meals and full use of mineral baths. (Massage, facials, mineral scrubs, etc. also available at reasonable rates.) For double room, designate roommate; otherwise, roommate will be assigned by conference coordinator. Please check preferences:

HISTORIC HOTEL:

Smaller rooms, quaint and somewhat rustic, but comfortable. Two Queen beds with half-bath. (All guests may shower in the bathhouse. If you want a private shower, reserve a cottage or suite.)

Double $996                      Single $1165

---

NORTH COTTAGES:

Nice cottage room, 2 Queen beds, kitchenette, full bath.

Double $1185                      Single $1421

---

PLAZA COTTAGES:

Newest, most spacious rooms of cottages, with kitchenette and large full bath.

Double $1272                      Single $1552                      1 King                      2 Queens

---

CLIFFSIDE SUITES:

Sitting and sleeping eras combined in large room with fireplace, microwave, fridge, full bath & patio with private mineral bath.

Double $1315                      Single $1630                      1 King                      2 Queens

---

ROOMMATE:

(If you register after March 1, your room choice may not be available. We will send an alternative for your approval.)

Enclosed is my $400 deposit for the conference, "Civilization in Transition," refundable (less $25) if cancelled by April 1, 2011.

NAME: (Print) _____

MAILING ADDRESS: _____

EMAIL: _____

(used for conference updates only)

Checks to Foundation for International Training should be mailed with this form to John Desteian, 950 Saint Clair Ave., St Paul, MN 55105-3214. If you prefer to use PalPay, call John for instructions. For other questions, contact Wynette Barton, (512) 262-1110, wbarton2@austin.rr.com